Hi Alice, I see that the next CAG meeting is next Thursday, January 9. Will there be an announcement made regarding issuing of the Focused Feasibility Study?

Happy New Year and all the best, Tirza

Allocation is the responsibility of the Cooperating Parties Group (CPG). They do not share that information with EPA.

Hi Alice, I hope you had a good holiday. I reported back to my environmental comm on the Lower Passaic Restoration after attending the CAG meeting in November. Is there an allocation of responsibility, even a rough one, contained in the many reports on the website? I recall the Appellate Div decision describing Diamond Shamrock's role in ordering their workers to dump Agent Orange waste in the river. Regarding dioxin, did any other company on the river engage in such activity? Thanks as always for your helpful insights.

Best, Tirza

Hi Tirza, sorry for the delay, an no I don't think we have anything on the allocation on the web site, they don't usually share that stuff until there is a specific Memorandum of Understanding with the EPA, and even then it may not be clear

thanks

Hi Doug, I gave an update to my fellow Environmental Commission members last night about the Lower Passaic River CAG. I got some good questions about the expected allocation among the PRP's. Is the allocation laid out somewhere on the passaic.org website; and if so, can you point me to it?
Thanks, Tirza

OK Thanks, I have added Scott as well, and gmail should be the address that you get future announcements, please let me know if that does not work out.

thanks

O.K. Please use my gmail. Apart from my updates for TPL, I sit on a town environmental commission and members are interested in updates now that EPA appears close to issuing a Final Focused Feasibility Study. In terms of TPL updates, if you don't have him already, you should make sure that Program Director Scott Dvorak is on the list; he is at scott.dvorak@tpl.org. Thanks so much, Tirza

No problem, I have both addresses in my book now, Passaic emails going to TPL unless you want me to switch that to gmail

thanks

Thanks Doug. As I am only at TPL on a part time basis, I wanted to make sure you had my gmail address. I am dating myself but I remember this site going back to the harbor dredging litigation in the 1990's! Thanks for all your efforts,

Subject: Passaic CAG Meeting December 12 will be for Committees Only

Hi everyone,

As a result of the current schedules for the proposed plan, the Passaic CAG will be using the December 12 meeting for committee work. There will be no presentations and no public session. All CAG members are encouraged to attend as we coordinate technical and outreach activities for the upcoming feasibility study and proposed plan. Meeting will be at St. James Church at 6 PM on 12/12.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions,

Doug
